CAP Day with Rochester Red Wings Highlights Children Awaiting Parents

Raffle Items, including game-worn Red Wings caps to be auctioned off

Rochester, NY— Summer vacation is in full swing, and that means baseball. And in Rochester, the Red Wings will be highlighting the non-profit Children Awaiting Parents/Donald J. Corbett Adoption Agency (CAP) at its Saturday, July 28 game vs the Indianapolis Indians.

In addition to celebrating the 30th anniversary of National Lampoon's "Christmas Vacation" for Christmas in July, game attendees will be able to bid on auction items to benefit CAP. These include family-themed items including game-worn Red Wings caps.

"We are so appreciative of the Rochester Red Wings for the opportunity to spread the word about our important work to help find forever families for children waiting the longer in foster care," said CAP Executive Director Lauri McKnight. "Baseball is such a family-friendly event. So, it's the perfect venue to increase awareness of the need for foster and adoptive families, and perhaps even find a potential adoptive family!"

The game begins at 1:05 pm at Frontier Field. Tickets can be purchased at the game or online at <https://bit.ly/2XUeHe3>.
